Sidney Licht

Lose yourself in these calming optical exhalations.

Kathryn Markel Gallery, 529 West 20th Street, Suite 6W, through October 22.

“At the Edge of Things,” an exhibition of Sidney Licht’s new paintings, is a cross between the still lives of Giorgio Morandi and Licht’s own painterly abstractions. Witness incantations of calm and intelligence in little pictures of a bowl of grapes, a purse that looks like a Creamsicle-colored barricade, an end table situated to suggest that you’re playing on the floor in an enormous upside-down world. — Jerry Saltz
